

■ places

the campfire

A small group, sharing.

■ places

the cave

Somewhere quiet, just for you.

■ places

the habitat

The world around it all — steady, sensory-safe.

■ places

the library

Where we keep what we've figured out.

■ places

the watering hole

A soft place to pause and be near people.

■ places

your own

A space that isn't here yet.

■ weather

big step

This next step feels too big.

■ weather

bright

Clear and good right now.

■ weather

buzzy

Too much coming in.

weather

can't tell

My body's telling me something, but I can't tell what.

weather

far-away

A bit distant, floating off.

weather

fizzy

Bubbly and excited inside.

weather

foggy

Hard to think, everything's slow.

weather

full

No more room inside.

weather

happy flappy

So happy my body has to move.

weather

heavy

Low and weighed down.

weather

in the zone

Deep in it, and it feels good.

weather

meerkat

On alert, watching for danger.

weather

need more

Everything's too flat and still — I need more.

weather

no words right now

The words won't come right now.

weather

prickly

Everything's rubbing the wrong way.

weather

pulled every way

Too many things pulling at me at once.

weather

round and round

A thought that won't stop going round.

weather

running on empty

I'm running low right now.

weather

stormy

Big feelings, close to the edge.

weather

tender

A small thing hurt a lot right now.

weather

too seen

Being looked at is a lot right now.

weather

warm

Settled and safe.

weather

your own

A feeling that isn't here yet.

what helps

a big squeeze

Firm pressure that steadies me.

what helps

a corner

Somewhere with sides, at my back.

what helps

a den

Something over me to tuck under.

what helps

a smell that helps

A smell that settles me, or less of one.

what helps

a snack or a drink

Something to eat or drink.

what helps

a steady sound

A calm sound to rest on.

what helps

a way out

A way to leave that I can use.

what helps

another way to talk

Let me point, write, or show it.

what helps

busy hands

Something for my hands to do.

what helps

dim the light

Softer light.

what helps

fewer choices

Fewer things to choose from.

what helps

headphones

Turn the world down a bit.

what helps

just one person

Not a crowd — one person.

what helps

keep it the same

The same way as before.

what helps

less talking

Fewer words for a while.

what helps

less to look at

Fewer things to look at.

what helps

let me come and go

Let me join and slip away as I need.

what helps

let me control it

Let me be the one to change it.

what helps

let me finish

Let me get to a stopping point first.

what helps

let me stim

Let me move and stim the way I need.

what helps

let me unmask

Let me drop the mask here.

what helps

my own spot

A place that's just mine.

what helps

no rush

All the time I need.

what helps

no spotlight

Please don't put me on the spot.

what helps

one thing at a time

One thing, then the next.

what helps

parallel existence

Someone alongside me, each doing our own thing.

what helps

room to move

Space to move my body.

what helps

say it straight

Say what you mean.

what helps

sit my way

Let me sit or stand how I like.

what helps

something soft

Something to hold and squeeze.

what helps

something to chew

Something to chew or crunch.

what helps

tell me first

Let me know before it changes.

what helps

the right temperature

Warmer, or cooler.

what helps

your own

Something else that helps.

all done

I'm finished here.

lily pad

coming back

I'll be back — hold my place.

lily pad

i need a minute

Pausing here. Not leaving.

lily pad

i want to stay a while

I'm good here. Let me stay.

lily pad

not yet

I'm not ready to move.

lily pad

ready now

I'm ready to shift.

lily pad

slowly

Ease me across, one step.

lily pad

stuck

I can't get going. That's okay.

lily pad

watch first

Let me look before I join.

lily pad

your own

A moment that isn't here yet.
